

Santa's Pandemic Press Release

BY BROD BAGERT

The North Pole sent a press release to worldwide news today.
(It's what they do when Santa Claus has something BIG to say.)

We north-pole elves do not get sick.
Up here in icy cold,
the lifespan of the average elf is over eight hundred years old.

Our reindeer are all flying high,
the sleds are filling with toys for all the nice and for the slightly naughty girls and boys.

And everyone is going to be so glad to be together.
Christmas 2020-
The most joyous Christmas ever.

Now this IS really big.
It's what Santa wanted to say.
Not even a pandemic can make Christmas go away.
